APPENDIX L.

Article 240, Land Revenue Manual

Improvement of Livestock.— The improvement of livestock for dairy' tillage and draught purposes is a matter of the greatest importance. The chief directions in which the officers of the Agricultural Department can help the agriculturists are by (1) giving proper advice in the matter of selection of animals for breeding purposes, housing cattle, growing of suitable fodder crops, asking the ryots to seek the advice of the Veterinary officers of the department, taking proper precautions when contagious or infectious diseases break out, and (2) by persuading well-to-do farmers to adopt up-to-date methods in breeding or to take advantage of the facilities offered by Government in the matter of maintaining stud-bulls. The agricultural Department will also arrange to station stud-bulls at suitable centres which will be notified from time to time.

Grants will also be given to ryots, whether individuals or bodies of people such as panchayats, co-operative societies or other institutions, for maintaining stud-bulls of approved merit. The rules regarding the grant are as follows:—

A Government grant of not more than Rs 100 a year will be made to private individuals or associations in consideration of the purchase and maintenance at their cost of an approved bull subject to the observance of the following conditions.—

(a) That the bull is properly housed and maintained in good condition.

(b) That a register of service by the bull is maintained showing results, 40 to 50 services being aimed at in a year.

(c) That the herd of cows covered by the bull is segregated from the rest of the village cattle, unless other male stock of the locality is castrated.

(d) That the cows covered are ordinarily limited to those owned either by the members of a society or by a particular breeder or group of breeders;

LIBRARY ARCHIVES Kerala Legislative Assembly

but discretion is allowed to the Superintendent of Agriculture to permit animals belonging to individuals to be served, provided those animals are kept under strict surveillance and prevented from mixing with other cattle.

(e) That in the case of a bull belonging to an individual, the fees charged for service should not exceed 4 annas, discretion being given to a society to levy its own scale of fee for service by its bull.

The grant may be renewed for the same animal on the same conditions year after year up to a maximum of three years at the option of the Government.

The grant for any year or portion of a year is payable only at the end of the period after inspection of the bull, the Superintendent of Agriculture being empowered to deal with each case separately generally on the lines indicated.

(f) Selected bulls will be maintained in important Devaswams of the Devaswam Department and grants will be made to these bulls under the rules referred to in rules (a) to (c) supra.

(g) The services of the Devaswam bulls will ordinarily be limited to cows owned by the Devaswam tenants, but it will also be extended to others provided they pay the fee fixed for such purpose. All applications for service of Devaswam bulls should be made to the Inspector of the Devaswam Group concerned who will communicate his sanction to the applicant and the keeper of the bull.

The Agricultural Department should also undertake experiments in cattle breeding at the Government Central Farm.
